Home News.

Mr. John Dan, of Pinal, spent the week at this head-center of the city.

Mr. Sherwood went to Phoenix Tuesday, to subpoena witnesses in the Bible case.

Gus Schamp, mine host of the Mineral Hill boarding house, was in town Tuesday.

The regular shipment of bullion from the King, worth about $20,000, came down to-day.

District Attorney Summers and wife went to Tucson Monday, and will remain there two weeks or more.

Messrs. Smith & Murray have had a large new oven built in the back room of their Main street bakery.

The building just south of the ESTERNE office is to be remodeled and fitted up for a cigar and tobacco store.

Mrs. Davis, of Whitlow Station, has spent the past two weeks in Florence, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. L. Bailey.

Mr. Fox and wife arrived here from Globe Wednesday, and will remain three or four weeks and perhaps permanently.

The stone for the foundation of the new jail building are on the ground, and the work of placing them will commence at once.

Mrs. Leroy Tucker, of Silver King, has gone to Los Angeles with the intention of making that delightful city her future home.

The Silver King company will put in a new boiler at their hoisting works soon. They are also increasing their force at the mine.

Mr. H. N. Perkins left Tuesday for his home at Ottawa, Illinois. He may return to Arizona to stay at some future time, he said.

Charlie Lewis has decided not to open a hotel, but will keep a lodging-house and has fitted up his rooms in comfortable style for that purpose.

A large portion of the machinery for the Hastings company's twenty-stamp mill has arrived here and been unloaded to await a fall in the river.

The Social Club, at the regular weekly meeting held Monday evening, elected the ladies, who got up the necktie party, honorary members of the club.

The Pinal Consolidated has sent out a very handsome and substantial, double-vested tie, constructed on the thorough-braze plan, for the use of Superintendent Dennis.

Attorney J. W. Davis went up to Pinal Thursday, and will combine business with pleasure by attending to a law suit Friday, and participating in the masquerade ball Friday evening.

Gold stem-winding Howard watches, worth $180, for $90. Guaranteed for time and cases or no sale, at the square dealing house of Uncle Harris, 221 Kearny, bet. Bush and Sutter Sts.

Mr. Jose M. Ochoa has provided himself with a complete assay apparatus and is studying assaying. His first experiments were very successful and we think he will become an expert at the business soon.

Mr. Geo. A. Brown went to Tucson Tuesday. This makes the second time he has left his post of duty at the express office during the past five years. He is the steadiest and most persistent worker we ever knew.

Over two hundred dollars have been subscribed by our generous citizens to build a fence around the cemetery, and to reclaim it from the lamentable neglect into which it has fallen. They will be dollars well spent.

The peach trees, hereabouts, are in full blossom, and from present indications the crop will be unusually large. Other varieties of fruit give equal promise of abundant yield. Our local market will be well supplied with fruit this season.

Mr. L. M. Cox, who has been prospecting in the Casa Grande district since August last, has returned to Florence and accepted a situation at the Silver King Hotel. He secured some good mining property in the Casa Grande district.

Felix Leblanc took Mrs. J. V. Wilson down to Tucson Wednesday, where she will remain for the present under the medical care of Dr. Handy. Felix will bring back with him a load of new furniture for Wilson & Leblanc's saloon.

Charlie Palmer bought the furniture that was removed from the Silver King hotel and will sell it at auction next Saturday, commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m. This will be an excellent opportunity for parties in need of household furniture to buy.

As will be seen by the notice in another column, the law firm of Smith & Davis has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Davis remaining in charge of the office. Both gentlemen will remain in Florence in the practice of their profession.

Jack Eaton has gone with his freight outfit to Pinal, to haul for the Huachuca Copper Company. Jack cleared $1,300 at the Florence crossing of the Gila during the high water last fall with a little boat about four feet wide and twelve feet long.

Dr. Davis came down from Pinal Sunday, to attend Mr. Aaron Mason who has been suffering considerable pain and inconvenience from the arm upon which he was recently vaccinated. The vaccine took strong, and in addition to this he caught cold in the sore.

Postmaster Wm. E. Guild has bought the residence he now occupies, also the lot upon which it is located. The lot takes in a whole block 125 feet square. Mr. Guild proposes to beautify the place and has commenced the work of sowing grass seed, setting out shrubbery, choice grape vines and fruit trees.

Hon. G. H. Oury, of Florence, has been appointed a member of the Democratic Congressional campaign committee. He will do his party good service, as he is not only an indefatigable worker, but is thoroughly acquainted in all parts of the Territory, having been a resident of Arizona since 1850.

Johnny Moran, Charlie Weiser and Pat Morgan have returned to their new find in the Owl Head district with provisions and supplies sufficient to last them till they can sink a fifty-foot shaft. If the ledge shows as well at a depth of fifty feet as it does on the surface, they will need no other "strikes" to insure them fortunes.

Mr. W. L. Bailey has been delayed in re-opening the Silver King hotel of this place by the slow arrival of the new furniture. He is re-papering, renovating the rooms and furnishing them throughout with elegant new furniture. When the hotel is ready for business again, travellers will find comfortable quarters there.

Mrs. Jere Fryer, of Casa Grande, was at Florence this week on a shopping expedition. Mrs. Fryer is the veritable Pauline Cushman, the noted Union spy whose daring exploits during the civil war have been recorded and published in a large 16-mo volume of several hundred pages. She is still a young and fine looking woman.

As work progresses on the Lelo at Mineral Hill, it becomes more apparent that it is a magnificent property. Considering the limited amount of development on the Lelo, there is not a more promising prospect in the Territory. With a custom mill on the river this mine would pay the expense of development from the croppings down.

The board of supervisors have decided to have culverts put in at several points on the Butte and Florence road. Mr. Champion offers to furnish the lumber at the rate of $48 per thousand delivered at Casa Grande, $58 per thousand delivered at Florence. The difference in the price just covers the cost of the freight from Casa Grande to this point.

Mr. Gustav Cox, civil and mining engineer of Pinal, is, we have been informed, making a complete map of the famous Pioneer district, giving the names and positions of the various claims. It is a laborious undertaking, but will be an invaluable document when completed, and we believe the gentleman will realize a handsome profit from the sale of it.

Mr. P. B. Graham, of the Palace at Pinal, has a way of remembering the printer that is particularly gratifying to the latter. He sent us this week a box of cigars of a brand called "Ubiquitous," and manufactured expressly for him. Like his liquors, they reach the top notch on the scale of quality. We shall remember Philo in our last will and testament.

Joe Hardy came down from Mineral Hill Wednesday with a broken finger. He was holding a drill in the shaft of the Mark Twain when the accident occurred, and says the fault was his own. He undertook to turn the drill with his right hand and above up the water cloth with the other. This caused the striker to miss his gauge and he brought the sledge down on Jesse's left hand, literally pulverizing his second finger.

Mr. James Sutherland, one of the old time Florentines, has returned after a year's absence, to become one of us again. He has leased the Jacob's mill and is placing it in good shape for the milling season. He is a good miller and will make only the best flour. We are glad to see him return to this burg. All the old timers will follow his example soon. Their former love for fair Florence is sure to be re-awakened in time.

Mr. Solon Mason returned from Los Angeles Tuesday, after an absence of four weeks' duration. He says the drought is at end in Los Angeles county and crops promise well. He also reports a general improvement in the prosperity of the City of the Angels. Real estate is changing hands lively at an advanced figure. The hotels are crowded with strangers looking for health and homes, and the merchants are pressed with business.

Charlie Beckwith and Dan Crocker returned from the Casa Grande district Wednesday. Charlie informed the news fiend of the ENTERPRISE that he saw many meritorious claims in that locality. In saying this he simply corroborates all others who have expressed an opinion on the district, based upon personal observations. We have never heard an adverse report of the district, a thing that can be said of very few districts.

Horn silver was struck on the Mark Twain ledge, at Mineral Hill, Tuesday, in large quantities. The whole district seems to be impregnated with chloride, and the time will come when it will be known as the chloride camp. No less than a dozen of the excellent claims in that camp show quantities of chloride and we are satisfied that every claim in the district will show it when they are properly prospected. The shaft on the Mark Twain is down about thirty feet and shows four feet of good ore.

We are indebted to Mr. Joseph Collingwood for a copy of Governor Stafford's first message to the Territorial legislature. It is printed in Spanish and is quite lengthy. It gives a general review of the Territory at that time, reporting the number of schools and pupils, the condition of the former, discusses our mines, the general resources of the Territory and the state of their development. The present general condition of Arizona, as compared with the state of advancement noted in this message, shows wonderful progression.

Mr. Isaac D. Smith is making an experiment in potato growing that is decidedly novel, to say the least. He has planted Irish potatoes in barrels, and as soon as the potatoes sprout and blossom, he intends to cover the vine with fresh dirt, and as soon as the latter shall force its way through the second layer of soil and blossom he will cover it once. He will repeat the operation thus till the barrels are full, and expects as a result to have each of his barrels full of potatoes at the end of the season. We are not much of a potato expert, but don't believe that the experiment will prove the grandest success yet recorded.

Mr. Culver, of Pinal and superintendent of the Good Enough, has secured a sixty day bond on the Alice for $60,000, and will place the property with eastern men. If he can only induce them to come and examine the property for themselves, there will be no trouble about selling it. It will tell its own story to any man competent to examine a mine. The evidences of its worth can be seen in the tunnel, in the winzes, in the cuts, in the croppings, on the dump, and they are such evidences as cannot be disputed, namely: ore, rich and abundant. There are two other parties after the mine, but Mr. Culver managed to step in ahead of them.

Mr. J. B. Remy's shepherd dog killed a wildcat last Sabbath, on the mesa, about two miles southeast of town. His cat-skip was four feet in length from the tip of his front to his hind feet and weighed eighteen pounds. The hard-boy took a hand in the fight till the cat located a claim on the calf of his leg and commenced to excavate an open cut across the ledge. This reminded him that he had property in another district needing his immediate attention, and he left the four-legged combatants to settle the dispute on their own responsibility. Wise boy that. This incident reminds us that this same dog killed a coyote recently, the coat of which was a pure white all over. So far as recorded this was the first pure white coyote ever seen in this section.

We were pleased to receive a call Thursday from Mr. Joseph Tuttle, a pioneer Florentine, who transferred his place of abode to Sonora a year since. He is here on business and will return to Sonora within a few days. He seems thoroughly imbued with the belief that Sonora, taking her climate and varied resources into account, is prospectively the grandest country on the Western Hemisphere. The tide of American immigration, he says, is running toward that country with increasing volume, and will gradually work a revolution in the mining and general business of the State. The present governor of Sonora is a gentleman of culture and appreciates the value of American intelligence, energy and enterprise as a factor in the future prosperity of the State he governs. He is doing all he can, says Mr. Tuttle, to encourage the coming and remaining of respectable Americans.

The trial of Robert Bible, who killed his step-father, Martin L. Stiles, last fall, at the ranch a mile north of Florence, will commence at Tucson next Wednesday. The grand jury at the October term of the District Court indicted the defendant for murder in the first degree and he was placed on trial. One hundred and fifty jurors were subpoenaed without obtaining a jury. When the last venire was exhausted, the prosecution moved for a change of venue to Tucson upon the ground that a jury could not be obtained here, and carried their point in the face of the opposition of the defense and the statement of the sheriff that he could find at least two hundred more jurors. The proceeding was unusual, to say the least, and will furnish the defense a strong point in their argument for a new trial in case of conviction at Tucson. Further, it will add largely to the expense of the prosecution, and work a great hardship on the 32 or 34 witnesses, who will be compelled, under our laws, to attend the trial at Tucson at their own expense.

The necktie party, given at the courthouse hall on the evening of the 10th by the ladies of Florence, has been the principal theme of conversation in social circles during the present week. It seems to have exceeded the expectations of all who were fortunate enough to be numbered among the participants, and apparently they will never tire of referring to it, and discussing the many pleasant incidents of which the occasion was prolific. But the affair deserves all the praise that can be lavished upon it. Of the many successful balls of the season it was the most complete in enjoyment, in harmony and other features that had a part in the perfect whole. The supper, which was the result of the joint skill and labor of the dozen ladies who got up the entertainment, was a surprise as well as a delight to the guests, not only because of the great variety and superabundance of the edibles, but also because of the rare excellence of their preparation. The ladies are to be congratulated upon the brilliancy of the success that crowned their undertaking.

Great Auction Sale.
 I will sell at public auction, on Saturday, March 25, 1882, at the Lewis House, in Florence, A. T., a large lot of household and kitchen furniture consisting of, cots, beds, bedding, chairs, tables, tableware, crockery, cooking utensils, and various other articles necessary in the equipment of a hotel or a private dwelling. I would call your particular attention to the new and large hotel stove which will be sold on this occasion. Terms cash on delivery.
 C. F. PALMER.

$25 Reward.
 I will pay $25 reward for the capture of a mare stolen from my ranch on the Gila, Sunday night, March 5th. The mare is a grey, a little over fourteen hands high, branded with an "X" and a Mexican brand on the left hind leg; the "X" is very dim; she also has a scar across the left shoulder from a cut made by a barbed wire. One bay pony branded with an "X" was taken with the mare. I will pay the above reward either for the return of the mare or capture of the thieves.
 HERVE SCHNEIDER.
 Florence, A. T., March 13th, 1882.
